A CULTURE EXPANSION

Project to get kids involved in arts is given go-ahead

NORTHMOOR, Moreton and Bablockhythe residents are celebrating after a superfast broadband connection was officially switched on by Witney MP David Cameron last week.

Villagers had been working on bringing better broadband to the area for the past two and a half years.

Communications company Gigaclear oversaw the project.

A COMMUNITY project to encourage five to 15-year-olds in Witney to get involved in music performance has been granted planning permission by West Oxfordshire District Council.

The Reejai Community Project aims to get youngsters interested in creating music of all genres and performing it.

It also encourages involvement with film-making and street art on an indoor graffiti wall.

And councillors sitting on the lowlands area planning sub-committee agreed to give the project planning permission on Monday afternoon.

The project has been running over the summer inside a barn on Market Place, but Monday's decision means it will be able to keep operating at the site for the next 18 months.

Easy Chalmers, manager of The Reejai Community Project, said: "The response has been fantastic, and we're getting busier and busier.

"We focus on the seven C's: creativity, confidence, communication, co-operation, co-ordination, commitment and constructive critical thinking.

"Anyone can come in and use the facilities, and it's really having a very positive impact on our young students."

Easy added that he was hopeful of expanding the project across Oxfordshire, and that they had teamed up with the Oxfordshire Playbus to set up a mobile service in Bicester that could lead to something more permanent.

Warwick Robinson, chairman of the planning sub-committee at the district council, said: "I think this project will be of great benefit to Witney especially and overall in West Oxfordshire.

"It's a fairly unique project they've got there, and as far as we were concerned from a planning standpoint, we couldn't see a problem with granting permission.

"Overall we felt it was going to be beneficial to the whole community."

Rail route linking Oxbridge on cards

A PROPOSAL to link Oxford and Cambridge by train "has real potential", a report published by a rail group has claimed.

A rail route between Oxford and Bedford is already in the pipeline - to be built by March 2019.

But the East West Rail Consortium has backed a plan to extend the route to Cambridge as well.

The consortium is made up of local authorities and businesses behind the project to link the east and west.

Bob Menzies, chair of the East West Rail's central section steering group, said: "Now that the western section between Oxford and Bedford is going ahead, we are working to develop the business case for the central section to complete the missing link."

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The latest study supports the case to extend rail links to Cambridge - from which trains can then be caught into Norfolk and Suffolk.

It forecasts a population increase of more than one million people living in the 'golden triangle' between Oxford, London and Cambridge by 2031.

The report adds that up to 400,000 jobs will also be created in that area by 2031, and claims building the central section between Bedford and Cambridge would slash journey times for those travelling to eastern England.

Congestion on London's railways would also be cut as travellers bypass the capital to get to the east.

Mr Menzies added: "This study shows there is significant economic growth potential that could be unlocked through new rail services.

"The government is providing funds for Network Rail to undertake the next vital phase of feasibility work to identify a preferred route."

The rail route between Bedford and Cambridge was dismantled and built over long ago, so a new line would have to be built.

Network Rail is looking into possible options.

Network Rail's principal strategic planner, Graham Botham, said: "We welcome the exciting opportunity to unlock the economic growth of the region through improving rail services.

"We look forward to working with the consortium to explore the role rail services can play."

Bikes let loose in palace park

MORE than 1,000 cyclists descended on Blenheim Palace on Sunday as part of their family cycle day, with many raising money for Oxford-based charity Oxfam.

The Blenheim Palace Sportive saw riders cycling around the palace's vast grounds during the day, or taking on a 60 or 100 mile route through the Cotswolds countryside.

Somerset cyclist Ian Green won the 60-mile route in a time of three hours and 40 minutes, while Suzanne Bartington of Witney was the first woman back 40 minutes later.

Event organiser Andy Townsend said: "We were delighted to welcome over 1,000 riders to Blenheim Palace.

"The routes gave riders a rolling, hilly course to tackle, but I think most came through to the finish with smiles on their faces.

"To see people of all ages and abilities on their bikes taking the unique opportunity to cycle in this historic estate was fantastic."

John Hoy, CEO of Blenheim Palace, added: "We were really pleased to see such strong competitor numbers, which provides a compelling reason to support this event going forward."

The Sportive is expected to return next year on August 16, 2015.

Cigarette theft

CHIPPING NORTON: Thieves raided a Sainsbury's store of cigarettes on Monday.

Offenders broke into the Market Square shop shortly before 2am and took cigarettes from behind the till, before fleeing the scene.

PC Simon Warn, who is investigating the burglary, said: "I would like to hear from anyone who may have been in the Chipping Norton area at this time.

"Did you see anyone around the area acting suspiciously or anyone leaving the area? If so, then please get in touch as soon as possible."

Anyone with information is asked to call 101.

Begging plan

OXFORD: New measures to tackle begging in the city's streets have been announced by Oxford City Council.

The measures will see individuals caught begging for the first time offered the chance to attend a local day centre instead of receiving a police caution.

The centre, Steppin' Stone, gives support to homeless people by helping them get off the streets.

Scott Seamons, the council's board member for housing and estate regeneration, said: "Begging is a criminal offence and it does remain a problem in Oxford.

"With this new initiative in place, an individual will have the opportunity to attend a one-to-one key working session to address the issues that made the person beg in the first place."

Hammer time

OXFORD: A demolition ceremony to mark the start of a lengthy process to knock down the Hans Krebs Tower in Oxford University's Science Area was held on Monday.

Biochemistry librarian Brian Taylor was presented with a ceremonial hammer to mark the occasion, which will see the tower demolished over the coming months.

It will make way for a building to house biosciences research, having previously been the home of the biochemistry department until 2008.

Family support scheme praised

A COUNTY council scheme that identifies families most in need of help to tackle crime and anti-social behaviour has been named as one of the best performing in the country.

The Thriving Families project was praised by government for offering help to 725 families in Oxfordshire.

It will now get government funding to support 400 more families by the end of March next year, ahead of a national roll-out of the scheme the following month.

Melinda Tilley, the council's cabinet member for children, education and families, said: "This is a great opportunity to build on the results we have achieved so far.

"The fact is that a relatively small number of families account for a hugely disproportionate amount of public resources as a result of problems that with a little help can be addressed successfully.

"Families are getting the help they need to turn themselves around and make lasting changes to their lives."

The project works by assigning a dedicated person to help the family.

They work with police, health services and other organisations to help the families deal with any problems that might arise in day to day life.

This can include poor school attendance, criminal behaviour, youth offending or adults out of work.

Fun day is set to raise vital funds for revamp

• The pavilion at Brize Norton, which fun day organiser Tim Gush is hoping to refurbish

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A VILLAGE fun day raising money is taking place in Brize Norton this Sunday to boost vital funds needed to revamp the sports pavilion on Monahan Way.

The Brize Norton Village Day will feature a horticultural show, cricket tournament and a variety of other entertainment throughout the day.

This is the first year that the fun day is being held under its new name, having been a mainstay in the village for the past 40 years.

It is raising money for the pavilion, which fun day organiser Tim Gush says is in "desperate need" of a refurbishment.

"The pavilion is getting old and is just wearing itself out," he said.

"The heating isn't working, the showers in the changing room are coming off the walls and the furniture itself needs updating."

Around £10,000 is needed for the work, and Tim hopes a sizeable chunk of that amount will be raised on Sunday.

"We are not going to get this all from the fete but we are planning a few events over the next year or so," he added.

"We are desperately keen to get as much money as soon as we can.

"It would mean we could actually offer the visiting teams who come here to play cricket and football a well equipped social area with a bar where they can stay.

"The fete should be a good day for all. We have a lot going on."

Another attraction for this year is 'A History of Brize Norton Through Your Eyes' – an exhibition of model vintage horse carts, photographs and a collection of guns from the First and Second World Wars.

The fun day gets underway at 10.30am, with events taking place at the pavilion, recreation ground and Elderbank Hall.

News Bites

Robbery arrest

WITNEY: A 32-year-old man has been arrested after two people robbed a convenience store in Valence Crescent on Sunday.

At around 11pm two men wearing balaclavas went into the Tesco Express store, where they ordered staff to fill a bag full of cash from the tills.

The pair then fled the scene. Nobody was hurt.

The man who was arrested has been bailed until September 15.

Call 101 with information.

Poppy help

CARTERTON: Volunteers are being sought to help with fundraising efforts in the town centre for this year's Poppy Appeal.

Money raised from the appeal goes to the Royal British Legion, which offers support to those who have served or are serving in the armed forces.

Anyone interested in volunteering can call Cllr Dee Bulley on 01993 842427.

Free food event

WITNEY: An afternoon of cooking and free food is coming to the Methodist Church on High Street this Sunday.

Dinner Time lets visitors turn up and get cooking with the ingredients and utensils on offer, with the hope of setting up a regular community kitchen.

It is running from 2pm to 5pm. To book a place, call Ellie on 01993 866695.

Superfast broadband arrives in three West Oxon villages

RESIDENTS of Northmoor, Moreton and Bablockhythe now have access to superfast broadband, following a community effort to improve connection speeds.

A community broadband group, led by parish council chairman Graham Shelton, has been working for the past two and a half years to bring speedy broadband to the villages.

In partnership with West Oxfordshire District Council, the group obtained EU funding before appointing local communications company Gigaclear to undertake the project.

And Prime Minister and Witney MP David Cameron was on hand to switch on the new network last Friday.

Mr Shelton said: "We are privileged indeed to live in a community that has experienced the pleasure and success that comes from doing things together.

"The delivery of superfast broadband in our community catapults us straight into the 21st century, and is the result of a colossal amount of work from a big team of local volunteers."

Mr Cameron added: "It was great to see the launch of superfast broadband in Northmoor.

"A huge congratulations to all involved and I would encourage everyone to take up this opportunity."

Students seeing stars as A-level envelopes opened

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

STUDENTS across Oxfordshire were celebrating last Thursday as more than 90 per cent achieved pass rates in at least two A-Levels.

Figures show 93 per cent of students in the county got two or more A-Levels between grades A* to E – similar to last year.

At The Marlborough School in Woodstock, all pupils achieved at least a grade C in English Language and English Literature, while 80 per cent of candidates earned a grade B in Maths and Further Maths.

More students from Oxford Academy are heading to university than ever before, as 97 per cent got two or more level three passes.

Twenty-four pupils at Chipping Norton School received two or more A or A* grades, half of whom earned three.

And nearly a third of boys at Abingdon School earned A* grades, with an overall pass rate of 99.8 per cent.

Felicity Lusk, head of Abingdon School, said: "For the fourth consecutive year, over a quarter of all A-Level passes achieved the highest grade.

"To achieve such excellent results so consistently is very impressive and a great credit to pupils and teachers."

More than half of students at Didcot Sixth Form College achieved grades of A* to B, with 22 getting three A* or A results.

Rachel Warwick, head of Didcot Girls' School, said: "The hard work of our students, the commitment of our staff and their shared passion for learning has resulted in another year of excellent A-Level results.

"Congratulations to all of our young people on their deserved success."

Melinda Tilley, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for education said: "Congratulations to all those students receiving such excellent results.

"As always, results day represents the culmination of years of hard work on the part of the young people themselves, and the efforts of dedicated teaching staff across the country.

"Regardless of individual achievements, I wish all our students future success as they start the next chapter in their lives."

Year 11 students are to get their GCSE marks this morning.

Fraud warning

SOUTH AND VALE: Reports have been made of people knocking on doors and pretending to be council planning officers.

South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse district councils are warning residents to ask for identification after reports of people posing as council officers and leaving immediately after being challenged.

Museum magic

OXFORD: The Story Museum on Pembroke Street is holding a Peter Pan week from next Tuesday, August 26.

JM Barrie's classic story will be brought to life through outdoor play and activities including making pirate flags and Peter Pan's escaping shadow.

Stories will be read every day at 3pm until August 31.

Fire call-outs

OXON: Firefighters attended four incidents across the county during scheduled Fire Brigades Union strikes last weekend.

Last Friday, firefighters attended a reported gas leak on Banbury Road, Oxford, which turned out to be a false alarm, as well as a water leak at the Peartree Interchange Travelodge.

They also attended road traffic collisions in Adderbury and Woodstock between 12pm and 2pm last Saturday.

Solar panels on school rooftops

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

SOLAR panels are being installed on the roofs of seven schools across the county as part of a scheme to generate enough energy to power 162 homes.

Installation work will be finished at Warriner School in Banbury, Cheney Academy in Oxford, and Charlbury Primary in Chipping Norton this week.

And the panels have already been installed at the Banbury Academy, Larkrise Primary and Wheatley Park School in Oxford, and Edward Field Primary in Kidlington.

Renewable energy company Low Carbon Hub introduced the scheme this year and hope to install solar panels on a further 10 Oxfordshire schools.

In total 3,000 solar panels will be fitted to generate 617-megawatt hours (MWh) per year of energy, saving 274 tonnes of carbon dioxide.

The panels are financed by Low Carbon Hub through community share offers.

CEO Dr Barbara Hammond said: "The scheme has proved to be very popular with schools as they don't need to raise the finance to install solar PV – the panels are owned by the wider community of Oxfordshire.

• Solar panels on the roof of Edward Field Primary in Kidlington

"It also provides the schools with clean, green electricity and is a great educational tool."

Oxford City Council approved a £2.3million loan for renewable projects in June.

Low Carbon Hub is to pay off the money in September through community share offers.

John Tanner, board member for Cleaner Greener Oxford, said: "I'm thrilled the Low Carbon Hub are partnering with organisations to get more clean renewable energy generated in the city and county.

"Schools and young people are a great place to start when saving energy and tackling climate change.

"As a governor of Larkrise Primary, I'm especially pleased to see that school on the list."

Oxfordshire County Council have also supported the scheme and Cllr David Nimmo Smith, cabinet member for the environment, said: "Renewable energy really is very much a thing of the present as well as the future, and so I am delighted to see the county's young people, and their schools, receiving this kind of support."

First tiles laid at Blackbird Leys £9m pool

By Kieran Davey
news@oxfordshireguardian.co.uk

THE first tiles have been laid at the new £9.23million competition swimming pool in Blackbird Leys.

Over 46,000 tiles will be fitted into the swimming pool, before 813,000 litres of water are poured in.

Glass for the new building is now being installed - and can be seen from Pegasus Road.

Oxford City Council's board member for leisure, Mike Rowley, said: "I'm delighted to see the first tiles being laid in the pool.

"This is when you start to see it come together."

It will have a competition size pool, a full size teaching pool and a splash pool, and is due to be completed by the end of this year.

David Hunt, general manager of Blackbird Leys Leisure Centre, said: "It is exciting to see the new building starting to take shape and the opening getting closer.

"Our team have already been working on timetables and operational planning and we can't wait for this great new facility to open."

The soft play area, crèche, studio and offices were reopened in June.

The new sports pavilion next to the centre is finished.

'Side-boob' and 'bro hug' in dictionary

A HOST of new words most commonly heard from our TV sets have been added to Oxford University Press' online dictionary.

Words like side-boob, binge-watch and neckbeard have been added to the Oxford Dictionaries website.

Amazeballs, Bank of Mum and Dad and bro hug have also been added.

Oxford Dictionaries' latest additions are as a result of research into current language trends.

Oxford Dictionaries editor Katherine Connor Martin said: "Our language monitoring programme enables us to explore how English language evolves differently across the world.

"Naturally, many words are used in similar frequencies in the UK and US, for instance the informal additions amazeballs and neckbeard."

Abbreviations WDYT (what do you think?) and YOLO (you only live once) have also made it on to the website.

Some of the words added to oxforddictionaries.com:
Binge-watch
Cray
Neckbeard
Side-boob
Amazeballs
E-cig

Family saved after car river plunge

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A FAMILY of four was rescued from the River Cherwell after their car dived 10m through the air before plunging into the water in north Oxfordshire on Sunday.

Fire fighters waded into the river after the 7.15am crash to save the family near Nell Bridge between Aynho and Adderbury, near Banbury.

The driver and three passengers managed to escape the car but were trapped in the river.

Their injuries, shock of the crash, the depth of the water, and the steep embankments meant the family could not climb out.

Fire fighters rescued them on arriving minutes after a 999 call from a passer-by.

An Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue spokesman said: "A passer-by fortunately saw the accident and was able to raise the alarm.

"The crews arrived at the scene within minutes, and following a prompt scene assessment, established that a single vehicle had left the highway and careered 10m through the air finally coming to rest on its side, half submerged in the River Cherwell."

Fire fighters from Banbury, Deddington, and a specialist rescue crew from Kidlington were at the scene.

Wearing dry suits and life jackets, they rescued the family from the river using spinal boards and rescue sleds.

Paramedics from South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) took one person to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford by air ambulance and three people were taken there by ambulance.

SCAS spokesman Catherine Morrow said: "None of them are believed to be seriously injured, they seem to have been pretty lucky."

Four ambulances, two ambulance officers and the Thames Valley and Chiltern Air Ambulance were called to the scene.

The fire and rescue spokesman added: "The co-ordinated multi-agency approach resulted in a swift and successful conclusion and prevented a potentially more serious outcome."

Crews were then tasked with trying to stop petrol from the car leaking downriver.

A specialist fire and rescue environmental protection unit was called to the scene, where crews used water-filled booms to stop the fuel leak.

James Palmer, Will Field, Tumem Khuram, and Lucy Reader received awards for excellence from the Royal Institute of British Architects last Thursday for work they produced on their Architectural course.

Suspect e-fits

FOREST HILL: E-fits of two men have been released in connection with a distraction burglary of an elderly man's home in Main Street on August 4.

The victim had his gold-coloured pocket watch, a pair of gold and pearl earrings, a necklace and a 1914 sovereign coin stolen in the burglary.

Between 8.45pm and 9pm on August 4, a man knocked on the victim's door and asked to look in his back garden, claiming his dog had jumped over the gate.

Once the victim returned to his property he noticed a second man running out of his front door.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Fireman tackles Pacific ocean in rowing success

AN OXFORDSHIRE fireman and his team have finished a rowing expedition across the Pacific Ocean, coming home second after seven weeks at sea.

Darren Taylor, 42, from Charlbury, was part of a four-man team called Battleborn who completed the rowing challenge from Monterey in California to Honolulu in Hawaii in 45 days.

The team started the Great Pacific Race on June 9 and finished 13 hours behind eventual winners Uniting Nations when they crossed the line on July 24.

"It didn't seem hard until we finished," said Darren, "but I think it was mostly mentally difficult.

"Physically you just had to get up and do it and it very much depended on what the conditions were like as to how hard it would be.

"Once you have left sight of land you don't have much choice except to carry on."

Darren took part in the race to raise awareness for Young Onset Parkinson's Disease (YOPD) and raised £700 for Cure Parkinson's Trust.

The 42-year-old had been due to complete the race with his friend Alex Flynn, who has YOPD, but funding problems meant they delayed their joint attempt until next year.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

It meant Darren was an 11th hour entry to Battleborn, teaming up with Irish skipper Philip Cavanagh, Wrexham's Barry Hayes and Australian Dan Kierath.

Despite only meeting them at the last minute, Darren described them as a "fantastic bunch of guys".

He added: "When you are living in a small boat and the cabin is probably about two thirds the size of a double bed it can be difficult.

"We were very much living in each other's back pockets and I am sure everybody annoyed everyone at some point.

"They are a fantastic bunch of guys, everyone brought their own skillset and we crossed the ocean with humour."

Darren wore a wristwatch throughout the row, which was monitored by experts in the research department at Oxford Brookes University.

He said: "It tracked very accurate readings of all my movements during the whole trip.

"It will be able to see how my rowing technique improved and see the sleep deprivation and the affect on my body."

Skydive to raise funds for little girl's prosthetic limbs

A HORSPATH woman is preparing to throw herself out of a plane on Monday to raise money for six-year-old Oxford schoolgirl Charlotte Nott, who lost her arms and legs to meningitis.

Keely Sinnott, 37, will be joined by 23 others for the skydive at Hinton Airfield, near Brackley, on Monday.

"I have known Charlotte since she was at pre-school with my daughter Isabelle and we always try to support fundraising events for her," said Keely.

"We did the skydive last year and, although I was nervous, I really enjoyed it and I am really looking forward to doing it again."

Charlotte lost her limbs four years ago, and money raised will be used for specialist prosthetic arms and legs.

As Charlotte grows, she needs two sets of legs each year, with each pair costing around £6,000.

Her mum Jenny said: "We have had a great deal of support from our local community, for which we are extremely grateful.

"It's what keeps us going really – that and the look on Charlotte's face when she masters new skills."

To donate, go to charlottesappeal.com.

Drop in crime

OXFORD: Incidents of anti-social behaviour have fallen by five per cent in the city over the past year, latest figures from Thames Valley Police show.

Between August 12, 2013 and Monday there were 3,621 reports relating to anti-social behaviour, compared to 3,804 for the previous 12 months.

Beer festival

OXFORD: The Perch in Binsey Lane is set to hold its second annual beer festival next month, with over 30 real ales and ciders on offer.

The festival will be held in the pub's beer garden, with a range of food and live music also on offer.

General manager Martyn Cooper said: "We've worked with some great people to help produce some excellent events this summer."

Assault appeal

OXFORD: A 39-year-old man was attacked by a group of 15 people in Blackstock Close, Wood Farm, on August 11.

The incident happened at around 9.30pm.

The victim was punched and kicked, being left with cuts and bruises.

Police believe the victim and offenders were known to each other and have so far arrested three teenagers, aged 16, 17 and 18, who have been bailed until September 21.

Would-be robber was obese

• Police and forensic officers in Turl Street in March 2013

A MAN who died trying to rob an Oxford jewellers was obese and could have passed away at any time, his inquest heard on Tuesday.

Clint Townsend, 33, of Barton Road, died last year after smashing a shop window to rob John Gowing Jewellers in the Covered Market, Oxfordshire Coroner's Court heard.

A verdict of death by misadventure was given yesterday by Oxfordshire's assistant coroner Alison Thompson.

Mr Townsend was tackled to the floor and sat on by a group of people, including the shop owner and manager, after smashing the store's window with a sledgehammer – the court heard.

Owner John Gowing told the court he was "devastated" by

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Mr Townsend's death.

He added: "A really horrible experience was just made even worse by the fact that he had passed away."

On the second day of his inquest on Tuesday pathologist Dr Ashley Fegan-Earl told the court: "He could have died at any point – at rest, asleep, at work."

He said Mr Townsend was obese, and his arteries were just 1mm wide.

Dr Fegan-Earl ruled he died of a hypoxic brain injury from critical respiratory arrest and coronary heart disease.

He said: "If I was to come across an individual with that amount of heart disease who was found dead in bed I would have no hesitation in giving that as the cause."

Mr Townsend was sat on until police arrived and started CPR.

He was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Headington but died the next day, March 31.

The court heard on Monday Mr Townsend was the passenger on a green Kawasaki Ninja motorbike that drove into the Covered Market at around 9.15am.

Mr Townsend smashed a window of the shop with a sledgehammer before being restrained, while the driver dropped the motorbike and ran off.

Giving evidence, Mr Gowing said he heard "banging and crashing" and saw Mr Townsend, who was wearing a crash helmet, headbutt his shop manager Andrew Hill.

He added: "Andrew has been with me for many years so I was worried for his safety.

"I grabbed the individual from behind and it was all a bit of a melee.

"People seemed to come from all over and we all went down in a big heap.

"Me and Andrew were underneath him and there were a lot of people sat on top of him."

The verdict was given after the three-day inquest at the court in New Road.

Streets' 50th birthday

RESIDENTS in Benson showed their neighbourly spirit last week as they celebrated 50 years since first moving into their homes.

Twenty-three people who live in Sands Way and Rumbolds Close celebrated the anniversary on August 16 with a special tea party at Millstream Day Centre on Mill Lane.

They all moved into their homes in 1964 when the first homes were built.

Jackie Spencer, who moved in in 1964 with her husband Bert, organised the event.

Her daughter Sarah, who was born in 1968, said: "We are very lucky to have such good neighbours and anyone of them you can call on for help.

"We celebrated with a good old fashioned tea party.

"Sadly eight of our neighbours couldn't make it either through being unwell or away, but we still had a wonderful time reminiscing about the good old days."

Residents also celebrated 21 years of neighbourly spirit with a street party in 1985 and felt a tea party was more fitting for the 50th anniversary.

Ms Spencer added: "We have watched our children grow up and help one another out and we all still get on well."

Murder accused 'planned suicide'

WILL Blencowe planned to commit suicide and make peace with 17-year-old Connor Tremble before he stabbed the teenager 15 times in his flat, Oxford Crown Court has heard.

Blencowe, 21, of Oxford Road, Banbury, admits stabbing the teenager on February 13 in his flat in Fairacres Road, Iffley Fields, but denies murder.

Psychiatrist Dr Michael Orr, who visited Blencowe in prison, told the jury last Friday the 21-year-old has mental health problems and describes himself as 'the living dead'.

Dr Orr said Blencowe told him he had intended to buy heroin in Oxford to kill himself, but visited Connor to tell him he had no problem with his relationship with his ex-girlfriend Aimee Harrison.

However on Tuesday, Heather Gilleski, mother of Blencowe's co-defendant Grant Clemens, said to the jury her son told her Blencowe had gone to Oxford to "have it out" with a guy his girlfriend was seeing.

She continued: "He said some guy called Blencowe decided he was not going to kill himself, but was going to Oxford to kill the other guy.

"Grant told me he (Blencowe) had stabbed this guy lots of times."

Last week the jury heard from Dr

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Orr that it was Connor who answered the door with a knife - Blencowe told the psychiatrist: "I could see the situation but I was only an onlooker and then I told him 'I am not here for that'.

"I grabbed his arm. It was like he was ready to get me."

Dr Orr told Oxford Crown Court: "He said he could see his arm going into two stabbing movements.

"He said he ran out to the taxi and was feeling like a robot."

Dr Orr, who said Blencowe suffered from a personality disorder and his mental state could have been compromised, added: "He told me and I am quoting: 'It was my body but it was not me'."

Miss Harrison, 20, who dated Blencowe for four years until September last year, gave evidence at the trial earlier last week.

She told the jury in a telephone conversation with Blencowe, he promised he would not harm Connor after finding out they were a couple, but told her to tell the teenager to "run" if he ever saw him.

She said Blencowe owned "about four knives" including a machete.

Miss Harrison revealed Blencowe would play around with his weapons in front of the mirror.

Bradley Jones, 21, of New Road, Bledington, and Clemens, 23, of Stockwells, Moreton-in-Marsh, are also on trial and deny perverting the course of justice.

The trial continues.

Council purchase

BICESTER: Cherwell District Council has completed its takeover of Graven Hill from the Ministry of Defence, as it looks to build almost 2,000 homes on the site.

Councillors voted to purchase the site back in February, with the council announcing the deal was completed yesterday.

Discovering bees

OXFORD: The Big Bumblebee Discovery comes to Oxford next month, with members of the public able to join scientists in observing the insects.

People are being asked to visit Oxford University Museum of Natural History on September 21 to observe the lavender plants and count the bees that visit them.

It is running from 10am onwards. For more information, go to britishscienceassociation.org.

WW2 bomb found

BICESTER: A bomb believed to be from the Second World War was discovered in Bicester on Tuesday night.

The device, found on London Road, was removed by police and the Army.

Controlled detonations were carried out at a safe location nearby yesterday afternoon.

Police reassured local residents there would unlikely to be any disruption to the public while detonations were taking place.

Wallingford Town Council update

ALTHOUGH the summer months are usually quiet for the Council, during the last few weeks there have been meetings of the plans and general purposes, finance and properties and personnel committees.

The conclusion of the community governance review has resulted in the boundary to the south and the west of the town being changed to the line of the bypass.

This will now allow the council to progress the neighbourhood plan and our first step will be to request that the district council advertises the plan area.

On July 15 we received a visit from 46 staff and students from our German twinned town of Bad Wurzach. This relationship was first established in 2000 and it is pleasing to see that it still providing beneficial multicultural gains.

The Wallingford website is being updated. Online bookings will be possible for the Regal and the Town Hall and publication of council paperwork, including agendas, minutes and procedures will be available.

On July 27 there was a moving commemoration of the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War around the War Memorial, followed by a performance in St Mary's Church by the choir of the Armed Man by Karl Jenkins. Then Lights Out on August 4 with the gradual increasing darkness provided a poignant reminder of the passing of time.

Bunkfest is back in Wallingford from Friday, August 29 to Sunday, August 31 - our festival of music, dance, steam and beer. All of the festival events are free – see bunkfest.co.uk. We look forward to seeing you there.

The town will also host a Celebrating Agatha Christie weekend, organised by Wallingford Museum from September 19 to 21 – the weekend includes many special events and exhibitions. Visit wallingfordmuseum.org.uk for more details.

New solar farm

CHALGROVE: A solar farm is to be built on part of Easington Farm near Chalgrove after planning permission was granted by South Oxfordshire District Council last week.

Councillors said on Wednesday renewable energy benefits outweighed the harm to the landscape.

It is expected to cover 46 hectares of land next to Monument Business Park.

Burglaries

KENNINGTON: A 27-year-old man has been charged in connection with three burglaries in the village.

The man, of no fixed abode, appeared at Oxford Magistrates' Court on Monday, and is due to appear at Oxford Crown Court tomorrow.

The charges relate to thefts on Kennington Road and Upper Road earlier this month.

Chocolate thefts

BICESTER: A man who stole chocolate from two stores in the town has been ordered to pay £66.50 in compensation and given an 18 month conditional discharge.

Gary John Wickens, 32, of Leach Road, pleaded guilty to the two counts of theft at Banbury Magistrates' Court on August 11.

They relate to two incidents in Market Square on May 14 and 21.

125-year-old wagon is welcomed back to village

• The wagon returning to the village after 70 years

By Kieran Davey
news@taylornewspapers.co.uk

VILLAGERS in Stanton St John welcomed back their 125-year-old wagon on Monday.

The Oxfordshire Museums Service loaned the wagon to the village to display at the Stanton St John festival on Sunday and Monday.

The wagon was hand-built in 1889 by Franics Pullin of Charlton-on-Otmoor, and owned by Mr Tompkins of New Inn Farm, Stanton St John.

This is the first time that the Museums Service have relocated an item of this size from their social history collection.

Christine Jeuckens, from the museum's collection office, said: "It is wonderful to see the 'Tompkins Wagon' back in Stanton St John for the festival.

"It is magical to be able to bring a bit of Stanton's past back to life through a genuine artefact."

This year the festival is celebrating 100 years of village history.

Russell Warner, festival committee chair, said: "We have lots of exciting activities, exhibitions and stalls, appealing to all ages and interests, reflecting this year's theme."

A village archivist has put together an exhibition on WW1, including excerpts from the diary of a village boy enlisted into the army in Oxford's Broad Street with three other boys.

Open gardens, stalls, live music, and food and refreshments will be on offer.

The festival is open from 1pm to 6pm on both days, August 24 and 25.

The entrance fee is £5 for adults with accompanying children up to 18 free.

Elderly flood victims return home

ELDERLY residents flooded out their homes on Christmas Eve celebrated returning home in Bicester last Thursday.

The flood victims were forced out of Havover Gardens sheltered housing, in Manorsfield Road, when the River Bure burst its banks.

A 'welcome home' party was laid on for the residents' return.

Hanover Gardens' oldest resident, 97-year old Doris Hardaway, said: "It's wonderful to be back. There is no place like home."

She spent several weeks living with relatives.

Resident June Walker, 80, said: "Before the festivities started I was even able to catch up with some of my friends and neighbours at our 'knit and natter' group in the beautifully redecorated communal lounge."

The party, organized by the building's landlord Hanover Housing Association, invited local heroes who fought for their return to meet the residents.

Among them was Neil Harding, an army private from the 23 Pioneer Regiment who helped businesses set up a social media campaign to pledge support for the flood victims.

Nick Sedgewick, property director for Hanover, said: "After several challenging months it's great to see residents back in their own homes."

Fire fighters were called at 4am on December 24 to evacuate residents from their homes after the river burst its banks and rose to about 10ft-deep.

About 55 residents were evacuated.

But the 20 ground floor residents spent time with relatives or alternative housing before they could move back home.

Ballroom, Latin and sequence dance is taught from 7.30pm until 8.45pm at the Woodstock Social Club in Oxford Street.

Practice sessions go on from 8.45pm until 11pm.

They are £2 for members and £3 for non-members. The classes run until December 18.

An amalgam of energy

ONE of Shakespeare's shortest plays, The Comedy of Errors, is performed by an all-male cast at Cogges Farm in Witney next Thursday.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

It is performed by Gloucestershire's acclaimed Festival Players, who will be staging the show alfresco at around 40 venues across the country.

Just seven actors will be involved in the show, which will require them to play multiple roles necessitating in quick costume changes.

This will be artistic director Michael Dyer's 10th all-male production in a row for the Players.

He said: "It is a brilliant farce of mistaken identities and we will perform it very much as a colourful, entertaining romp.

"It is of course totally authentic.

"We are following in the footsteps of Shakespeare's own Globe Theatre when all roles were taken by men.

"The Players have built a reputation for strong, all-male shows overs the past decade."

The Comedy of Errors is known for being one of Shakespeare's most farcical comedies.

It uses slapstick and mistaken identity to create the humour.

It tells the story of two sets of identical twins that were accidently separated at birth, and who try to track each other down.

Making Shakespeare more accessible is one of the Players' key aims, so they ensure that their productions are kept relatively short.

Michael added: "Our shows are never longer than two hours and we always try to make them crystal clear, and an amalgam of energy, entertainment and colour.

"We set out to take audiences of all ages on a journey and make them feel very much part of the production."

The show takes place on August 28, and starts at 7pm.

Black Coffee for anyone?

ALL is calm on a quintessentially English country estate, until murder shatters the peace and throws the house guests into chaos.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Eccentric physicist Sir Claud Amory is found dead and his new scientific formula has been stolen.

Arriving at the estate just moments after the discovery, one man immediately senses treachery and deception and sets about deducing which one of Amory's guests betrayed him. Hercule Poirot is on the case.

Black Coffee, at the Oxford Playhouse from Tuesday, sees events unfold during this classic Poirot thriller.

It is the first play ever written by Agatha Christie - running at the Beaumont Street theatre from August 26 to August 30.

It introduces a character who went on to become the most famous detective of all time - and the only fictional character ever to receive a full-page obituary in the New York Times.

Put on by the Agatha Christie Theatre Company, Black Coffee stars Jason Durr as the famous Belgian sleuth.

He is best known from ITV's hit series Heartbeat and has also appeared in Lewis, Midsomer Murders, and Miss Marple.

Jason was last seen at the Oxford Playhouse in Noel Coward's Volcano.

He will be joined by Gary Mavers, Ben Nealon, Deborah Grant, and Oliver Mellor - who for four years has played Dr Matt Carter in Coronation Street.

Georgina Leonidas, who played Katie Bell in the last two Harry Potter movies, will also take to the Playhouse stage.

Poirot debuted in Christie's 1920 novel The Mysterious Affair at Styles, making his first - and only - stage outing in the mistress of murder's debut play, Black Coffee.

Over two billion of her books have sold worldwide, beaten only by the Bible and Shakespeare.

Black Coffee starts at 2.30pm and 7.30pm. For more information, go to oxfordplayhouse.com.

• Jason Durr stars as Poirot in Black Coffee at the Oxford Playhouse from Tuesday

Steam days

CHOLSEY and Wallingford Railway will be running both their vintage steam engines at the same time for the first time this weekend.

The society, in Hithercroft Road, is holding their first Steam Gala on Monday and Tuesday from 11.10am to 5pm.

For more information, call 01491 835067.

Bridge session

A DUPLICATE bridge marathon is being held in Witney until August 27.

The Witney Bridge Club session costs £4 for visitors.

The card game starts at 7.15pm at Burwell Hall in Thorney Leys.

There will also be coffee and biscuits for refreshments.

For further information, ring 01993 880223 or email marion-h@thequarryhouse.co.uk.

Flower show

SOME of the world's most famous florists are flocking to a flower show in Oxford this weekend.

Workshops and displays will run throughout the Flowers@Oxford show at Lady Margaret Hall in Norham Gardens from Friday until Sunday.

Each day starts at 9.30am until 5.30pm, with tickets costing £40.

DIDCOT URBAN RACE 2014
Run, jog or just walk - this is a fun and exciting event for the Summer Bank Holiday! It's organised by Thames Valley Orienteering Club and is ideal for all ages and abilities - families, children and runners too. An orienteering race does not follow a set route. Instead you have to visit a series of checkpoints and register each one with an electronic timing chip. The checkpoints may be along streets, alleyways, behind bushes in the areas of parkland or even around the Ladygrove lakes. The challenge is to decide what you think the quickest route will be between the checkpoints and then to find your own way along that route using a special orienteering map. The event takes place on Bank Holiday Monday 25 August, around the intricate streets and parkland of the Ladygrove estate. There will be several courses to choose from, ranging from 1km for children in a traffic free area, up to 7km for runners. Help will also be available. Registration and parking will be at Didcot Town FC, Bowmont Water, OX11 7AF. Check out the flyer on our website for more info and entry fees. Just come along on the day between 10am and midday and we'll get you started. Just don't forget your sense of adventure! Please do email us if you have any questions: publicity@tvoc.org.uk

MATT MIDGLEY - LIVE CONCERT

Matt Midgley is a Scottish solo-acoustic guitarist, singer and songwriter based in Oxfordshire. His technical percussive guitar skills and alternative folk style create an amazingly unique sound, topped with simple melodies, catchy hooks, and strong Scottish vocals.
After a hugely successful 2013 of touring, festival hopping, and collaborating with the likes of Mike Dawes and Thomas Leeb, Matt is currently working on new material which he will be showcasing this Summer.

MATT MIDGLEY - GUITAR WORKSHOP

Introduction to percussive guitar. The workshop will be a fully unique and interactive experience. Matt will work intensively with a small number of students (max 15).
The workshop will focus on many aspects of percussive guitar and will look at any struggles to employ them in your own playing.
The workshop is suitable for those acoustic guitar players of intermediate to advanced ability (2/3 years playing experience upwards).
If you would like a place and to take part in Matt's workshop, you must attend with your acoustic guitar (steel strung), in order for you to play along and take part in the lessons. By booking a place you will also be agreeing that you are the appropriate ability level on your instrument, and that you have some experience reading music notation or Tab.
This day long experience will be an exciting opportunity for aspiring percussive guitarists to work closely with a world class teacher and performer.
We expect this event to be very popular and to sell out fast. Book early to avoid disappointment.

THE FORENSICS OF A FLAT (AND OTHER STORIES)

Francesca tells stories about her beloved flat, the area it stands in, what it used to be, what it will become and the people that have populated it. It's a bit stand up, a bit biography, a bit documentation – a love affair with a local area to the tune of bad Karaoke.

MIKE DAWES- GUITAR MASTERCLASS

Mike Dawes is a 24 year old English guitar player and touring musician. He has been hailed as one of the world's finest performersHis acclaimed solo music, littered with nuances and micro-techniques, has seen him tour almost every continent on the planet. He has recorded with and sessioned for multiple Grammy award-winning artists, appeared on film and TV advert soundtracks, written for and been published in international music magazines, as well as achieving viral YouTube hits in the millions
The Masterclass will be a fully unique and interactive experience. Mike will work intensively with a small number of students (max 15). The Masterclass will focus on percussive guitar and advanced playing techniques. Mike will also show some aspects of his highly acclaimed pieces.
This Masterclass is suitable for those acoustic guitar players of intermediate to advanced ability (2/3 years playing experience upwards).
If you would like a place and to take part in the Masterclass you must attend with your acoustic guitar (steel strung) in order for you to play along and take part in the lesson.
By booking a place you will also be agreeing that you are the appropriate ability level on your instrument and that you have some experience reading music notation or Tab.
This two hour experience will be an exciting opportunity for aspiring fingerstyle guitarists to work closely with a world class teacher and performer.
We expect this event to be very popular and to sell out fast. Book early to avoid disappointment.

WIN tickets to MotoGP™ at Silverstone!

MOTOGP™ returns to Silverstone on 29 - 31 August, when the UK's premier motor sport venue hosts the 2014 Hertz MotoGP™ British Grand Prix.

The event guarantees fantastic action, incredible noise and thrilling racing, and Silverstone is putting on a packed weekend festival for bike fans. With on and off track entertainment for all the family, the weekend activities on offer include the Aerostars air display, Inspire BMX Show, Kiddimoto for kids aged 2-12, Honda 'My First Licence' for 5-11 year olds, and Rookie Ride taster sessions for kids over 13. To top it off, there's live music and entertainment throughout the weekend, including a set by DJ Martin Humes and live music from James Toseland and his band, plus the legendary rider appearances at the post-race Grand Prix Party.

British stars Bradley Smith, Cal Crutchlow, Michael Laverty and last year's Moto2™ British Grand Prix winner, Scott Redding, will all be flying the Union Jack flag in the premier class, riding in front of the passionate home crowd. It's also the perfect opportunity to witness the masterful Marc Márquez in action as he attempts to win the British Grand Prix for the first time, plus last year's MotoGP™ winner Jorge Lorenzo and crowd favourite Valentino Rossi, as they battle for glory on Silverstone's incredible high-speed circuit.

Closing date:
Tuesday, August 26, 2014

For further information on the Silverstone round of the 2014 Hertz MotoGP™ World Championship, or to book tickets, visit www.silverstone.co.uk, or call 0844 3750 500.

We have teamed up with Silverstone to offer one lucky reader the chance to win a pair of highly sought after Grandstand tickets for all three days of the 2014 Hertz MotoGP™ British Grand Prix (29 - 31 August).

Enter our competition by answering the following question:

Q: Which rider won the 2013 British Grand Prix at Silverstone? Valentino Rossi, Jorge Lorenzo or Cal Crutchlow?

Comedy nights are now the last FRIDAY of every month

Compere

Jason Patterson started out in comedy in 2006 and since then he's performed at comedy clubs all over the UK. Jason brings the house down with his relaxed style of comedy which leaves the audience wanting more.

*"Brilliant observations backed by a perfectly measured delivery and an assured stage presence make Jason Patterson a popular regular at the country's leading comedy clubs"– Comedy Central Live

Neil McFarlane is an example of that rare species – a self confessed, and relatively shameless, middle-class Glaswegian. Neil has been performing on the Scottish and Northern England comedy circuits for six years. He is now playing to audiences in London and the South East.

*"His best writing is offbeat, showing a clear ability to craft a gag"– Chortle

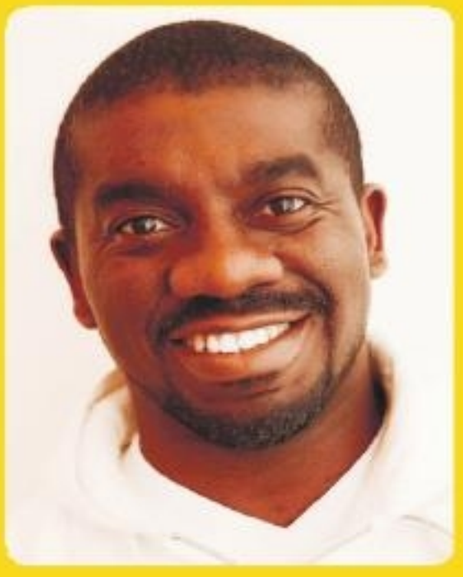
Open Spots

These are fairly new comedians that are looking for some practice and stage time.

Christian Elderfield

Ant Dewson

Headline Act



Gerry K Anecdotal, observational and refreshingly honest, Gerry's performed across the UK and abroad at The Comedy Club, Jongleurs, The Comedy Store, CKP and many more top circuit venues, not to mention winning his honours along the way; The Comedy Store's 'King Gong', Metrolife Comedy Newcomer, and The Comedy Café's Best Newcomer Awards. As an in-demand headline act on the comedy circuit, Gerry also performs regularly at many corporate events.

*"Easily the best act on the night..."– Ed Walker
*"Gerry was fab and everyone thought so..."– 92 Squadron. Hullavington

Please bear in mind that this show will contain strong language and adult humour

Review of the South Korean car company's alternative run-around, the Hyundai i30

Hyundai's everyday car offering

THE i30 is Hyundai's answer to the Volkswagen Golf, Ford Focus and Vauxhall Astra.

The new Generation i30 is longer, wider and lower than its predecessor – generating sportier exterior proportions without compromising interior functionality. Offered in three and five door hatchback guises, as well as an estate - all models come with a five-year, 100,000-mile warranty.

FACTS at a glance

Hyundai i30 Active 1.6 CRDi 110PS Blue Drive
Price: £18,295
Engine: 1.6-litre Euro V diesel DOHC 16v
Transmission: 6 Speed Manual
0-62 mph: 11.5 seconds
Top speed: 115 mph
Economy: 76.3 mpg (combined)
CO2 Emissions: 97g/km

REVIEW: Hyundai i30 Active 1.6 CRDi

By Philip Shoulder

@writeonmotoring

The engine line-up ranges from a 98 bhp 1.4-litre petrol to a 126 bhp 1.6-litre diesel. Tested here is the ultra efficient 109 bhp 'Blue Drive' diesel, which returns a claimed 76.3 combined mpg and emits only 97g/km, making it road tax exempt. Trim levels run from the basic Classic to Active, Style, Style Nav and Premium. All models come with Electronic Stability Programme (ESP), Hill-start Assist Control (HAC), air-conditioning, Bluetooth, voice recognition, and USB connectivity. This Active spec car adds cruise control, rear parking sensors, electric and front and rear windows.

Inside it is attractively designed, if slightly reminiscent of some familiar European models. Regardless, it's a big improvement on the old car.

There's a spacious feeling throughout the cabin and in the rear there's ample head and legroom to accommodate six-footers. Stowage space is also plentiful in the i30 – the centre cubby is particularly capacious – big enough to fit a small bag. There's another little area for coins, cup holders, and a tray in the front of the gearstick. The boot has pretty good access and offers 378 litres of capacity – more than either the VW Golf or Ford Focus.

This 109 bhp 'Blue Drive' diesel proves eager enough once the revs are up, but can lack low-down pulling power, resulting in frequent use of the gearbox at lower speeds – but the gear change is slick and easy to use. Steering is nicely weighted and comfortable to grip.

This Blue Drive model gets high profile tyres, which help to provide extra cushioning to an already pliant ride, making i30 a comfortable companion even when road surfaces deteriorate.

It might not be the most interesting hatchback to drive, but it's certainly capable, secure and hassle-free. The more time you spend behind the i30's wheel, the more you begin to appreciate just how much it does right.

Verdict - Hyundai's i30 is an appealing, well-rounded package, offering a persuasive mix of talents; it's worthy of serious consideration.

The Thames Valley Community Rehabilitation Company Limited (TVCRC)
Less re-offending, fewer victims

Community Payback Supervisors - Sessional

Based: Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire
Ref: JGP 1881

Do you have good DIY skills? Are you confident and assertive? We are looking for sessional supervisors, across Ox and Bucks, to oversee groups of offenders with Unpaid Work Requirements (formerly Community Service) working in the community. The work can be anything from clearing pathways to painting schools or conservation work. You will be given full training and can earn from £11.42 to £14.19 an hour plus extra allowances for weekend working.

You will effectively supervise offenders, maintain discipline, and ensure that work is carried out to a good standard. Excellent communication skills and a range of practical skills are essential. You must have a D1 license as you may be required to drive a minibus, you must also have use of a vehicle as you will be required to travel throughout the region.

For more information please contact Erica Swift, Probation Community Payback Manager on 01869 328500 or email: tvy.personnel@thames-valley.probation.gsi.gov.uk

Application form and job description can be downloaded from www.jobsgopublic.com

Exiles lose out in Wasps friendly

By Kieran Davey
news@oxfordshireguardian.co.uk

HEAD coach Justin Burnell said lessons must be learnt after London Welsh succumbed to a 38-24 defeat to Wasps on Sunday in their latest pre-season friendly.

The Exiles led 17-10 after 50 minutes with a try from Nick Scott, a penalty try and a penalty from Olly Barkley.

But a spirited fight-back from Wasps saw them regain the lead, with Nathan Hughes (2), Charlie Davies, Guy Thompson and Myall Kearnan crossing as the home side upped the intensity in the final 30 minutes.

Welsh however had the last word with a try from Chris Elder, ensuring that Burnell's side enjoyed a bright end to the game.

Events at Adams Park could not have been further removed from the Exile's comfortable 64-0 win over Henley Hawks on August 9.

"It was a massive learning curve," said Burnell. "At 65 minutes we were more than in the game. But it was those certain areas at crucial times - there were four line-outs in the green zone that we completely missed and you just can't do that.

"So we're disappointed, but I also felt there were a lot of positives in there. The scrum was exceptional."

The Exiles will complete their pre-season programme when they take on Pontypridd at Sardis Road on Saturday, August 23.

They will then open their Aviva Premiership campaign at home to Exeter Chiefs on September 7 at 2pm.

"We're very realistic as to what the challenge is going to be," said Burnell.

"We've got three weeks now to build and move forward into the Exeter game.

"We'll have time this week to review it and put things right."

For Burnell there were still plenty of positives to take from the game, with particular praise for the performances of Welsh's debutants.

"I was really pleased; Tim Molenaar, Dean Schofield, and Olly Barkley's distribution, and then you've still got that magical touch in Nick Scott and Seb Stegmann.

"The front row with Taione Vea and Koree Britton from a scrummaging point of view was very good."

City draw with Chorley

OXFORD City maintained their unbeaten start to the season after drawing 0-0 with newly promoted Chorley in the Vanarama Conference North on Saturday.

The stalemate was the second in five days for City at Marsh Lane after last week's goalless draw with Worcester City.

The away side dominated possession in the first half but failed to test Mark Scott in goal for City.

Chorley were reduced to ten men after the break as midfielder Harry Winter was given a straight red for a professional foul.

However, Justin Merritt's side failed to create enough clear-cut chances and were forced to settle for a point.

The result leaves City eighth in the league table with five points from three games.

City's next match will be on Saturday when they travel to Solihull Moors, who sit ninth in the table.

City have also signed South African-born striker Bidemi Afolabi from Corby Town.

Afolabi previously played for Irish sides Bray Wanderers and Clongowes Wood, for whom he scored 64 goals in just 31 appearances between 2010 and 2012.

The highly rated youngster has been recently linked with interest from several high-profile clubs including Manchester United and Celtic.

Scott bids for starting place ahead of season

LONDON Welsh's friendly with Pontypridd on Saturday is the last chance for players to stake a claim for a starting place against Exeter Chiefs, says winger Nick Scott.

The Exiles travel to Sardis Road for their final pre-season fixture before their Aviva Premiership campaign gets underway against the Chiefs at the Kassam Stadium on September 7.

For Scott, whose try opened the scoring for Welsh against Wasps last Saturday, the friendly represents a huge opportunity to make sure of a place in Justin Burnell's plans.

"It's the last chance everyone's got to put a marker down to be in the team against Exeter on the opening weekend," said Scott.

"We know how good a team Ponty are. It will be a huge challenge and they'll be out to take our scalp, especially having been promoted, and we're going to have to be on top form.

"But it's also another opportunity to tweak things and try things, and improve on our skills, and to go in to the Premiership season on a high."

Welsh and Pontypridd met twice last season in the British and Irish Cup, with the Exiles losing 29-22 at Sardis Road before winning the return game 26-23 at the Kassam Stadium.

"I'm really looking forward to going back, the atmosphere down there last time was incredible," said Scott.

United are heading in the Wright direction

CAPTAIN Jake Wright says Oxford United will start winning games soon after the U's were condemned to a third successive league defeat at table toppers Morecambe on Tuesday night.

Kevin Ellison's 39th minute goal was all that separated the sides at the Globe Arena and the U's are one of four teams yet to score a single point in Sky Bet League Two this season.

However, following defeats to Burton Albion, Mansfield Town and Morecambe, Wright is confident that United will soon pick up points – starting on Saturday at home to Portsmouth.

"It was the best we've played all season," said Wright.

"We're devastated we lost the game, gutted, but if we keep carrying on playing like that, creating that many chances, we can't keep losing games.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"We will start winning games and when we do we will get on a roll because the way we are playing is really refreshing.

"If we weren't creating chances you would be questioning it, but we are creating chance after chance."

United felt aggrieved to have not left Lancashire with at least a point after Danny Rose's free-kick hit the bar and two penalty shouts were turned down.

Danny Hylton was booked for diving after keeper Barry Roche hauled him down, while there was a handball appeal late on.

"The first one was a blatant penalty," said Wright.

"That would have changed the game - we score the penalty, the keeper gets sent off, we're against 10 men chasing, trying to win the game.

"We're devastated, but we can't do anything about it. It's the referee's decision.

"He's made the wrong decision, but it happens in football, you've just got to get on with it."

The 28-year-old added: "For 80 minutes of a 90 minute game we dominated.

"Fair play to Morecambe - they are top of the league and they have had three wins out of three - but I think it was clear for everybody to see that we played really well."

FA Cup wins for Oxon teams

ARDLEY United thrashed Ash United 5-1 in the FA Cup Extra Preliminary Round on Saturday, writes Kieran Davey.

Goals from Danny Bone (2), Chris Jackson, Joe Eyre and captain Ollie Stanbridge secured the win.

Ardley will now play the winner of the Hartley Wintney/ Frimley Green tie, which was abandoned at half-time after reports of misconduct in the dressing rooms.

Kidlington also made it through after beating Newbury 3-0, and will play Wantage in the next round on August 30.

Both teams were also in league action in the Hellenic Premier Division on Tuesday.

Ardley were defeated 3-0 away to Briscombe & Thrupp, while Kidlington lost a close match 2-1 away to Reading Town.

Oxford City Nomads' match against Newbury was abandoned after 70 minutes with the score at 2-2, following a serious injury to Newbury captain Carl Jenner.

Jenner suffered a broken ankle and tibia after a collision chasing a long ball, and was treated on the pitch by ambulance staff before being taken to Basingstoke Hospital for treatment.

The match will be replayed at a future date.

Due to the Bank Holiday, all three teams will play twice over the weekend.

On Saturday Kidlington host Highmoor Ibis, Nomads welcome Highworth Town and Ardley travel to Thatcham Town.

Then on Monday, Nomads are away to Abingdon United, Ardley take on Thame United and Kidlington play Flackwell Heath at home.

Smith frustrated after Czech failure

OXFORD motorcyclist Bradley Smith was left frustrated after finishing ninth in the 11th round of the MotoGP World Championship in the Czech Republic, writes Kieran Davey.

Smith began the race on Sunday from fourth on the grid after an impressive display in qualifying, in which he finished 0.004 seconds off the front row.

However, the Yamaha rider slipped back to ninth towards the end of the first lap, and was hindered by traction issues throughout the race.

Despite a determined effort to chase down the leaders, Smith eventually finished 30 seconds behind winner Dani Pedrosa.

"It goes without saying that the result was much lower than I had anticipated after such a strong qualifying and I was sure that I could ride much closer to the leading bikes," said Smith.

"It is a mystery as to why but I had less rear grip compared to the morning and Saturday afternoon.

"It was a frustrating end to the weekend as I know I have a much better pace than what I showed on Sunday."

Smith remains ninth in the drivers' championship with 65 points, with fellow British rider Cal Crutchlow in 14th with 36 points.

Yamaha team manager Hervé Poncharal said: "Bradley struggled a bit, he did the best that he could have done to finish ninth.

"Of course this is not what we had hoped for but this is racing."

Smith will return to action for the British Grand Prix at Silverstone on August 31.

Plato hopes to continue title charge

JASON Plato will be looking to continue his recent strong form as the British Touring Car Championship heads north of the border to Knockhill this weekend.

The Oxford-born racer won two of the three races last time out at Snetterton to put himself back in the title hunt.

It had been a fairly lean season by Plato's standards up until that point, with his only other win having come at Donington Park back in April.

Plato is up to third in the championship standings with 236 points, although he is still 43 behind series leader Colin Turkington.

Knockhill hasn't been a happy hunting ground for Plato in recent years, having not made the podium at the Scottish circuit since 2010.

He came fourth, seventh and fifth in the three races there last year, although he has won on eight previous occasions in his career.

Just three race weekends remain after Sunday, taking place at Rockingham, Silverstone, and the season finale at Brands Hatch on October 12.

Sport Bites

Eddie's best

ABINGDON golfer Eddie Pepperell recorded his best ever finish on the European Tour, as he finished tied for fourth at the Made in Denmark tournament on Sunday.

Rounds of 73, 68, 71 and 69 meant that Pepperell ended on three under par, six shots behind tournament winner Marc Warren.

It marked the first time Pepperell had made the cut since June, although the golfer had not played since the Scottish Open on July 13 before last weekend.

Hawks lose

HENLEY Hawks succumbed to their second pre-season defeat on Saturday, as they were beaten 40-33 by Bedwas RFC.

It comes after their 64-0 thrashing against Aviva Premiership side London Welsh the previous week.

But there was joy for Chinnor, as they made it two wins out of two with a 43-0 win against Dudley Kingswinford.

Their second consecutive win came after beating Bury St Edmunds 45-21 last Saturday.

Chinnor return to action this Saturday with a home friendly against Matson, while Hawks are back in action for their last pre-season match against Ampthill on August 30.

Romanian Zsolt signs for Stars

OXFORD City Stars have landed the signing of Romanian international ice hockey player Zsolt Mastaleriu for the coming season.

The 25-year-old defenceman has spent recent years playing in the MOL Liga – a multi-national league for clubs from Romania, Slovakia and Hungary – as well as playing for his country.

He'll line up alongside Canadian Kyle Flemington as the Stars' two players from overseas for the upcoming National Ice Hockey League 1 season.

"I've been here in Oxford for the past few days getting settled in and everyone has been fantastic so far," said Mastaleriu.

"Some of the guys have been showing me around and I'm looking forward to getting started for the Stars."

Coach Darren Elliott added: "We looked at quite a few import players but we were looking for defensive players and Zsolt fits the bill.

"He was really keen to come over from Romania – he speaks very good English and played for his country in the recent world championships.

"He's a big strong player and brings an added solidity to our team, and with his experience as well, he's really the full package."

Lotus want success

ENSTONE-BASED Lotus F1 will be hoping to revive their fortunes when the Formula One season returns with the Belgian Grand Prix this weekend.

Following last month's Hungarian Grand Prix, Lotus have now gone five races without scoring a point, and remain eighth in the constructors' standings.

Driver Romain Grosjean sits 14th in the drivers' championship with eight points, and is positive about his team's chances this year.

By Kieran Davey
news@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Despite the difficulties so far, I feel positive for the rest of the season to come," he said.

"We have seen that there have been many issues since the start of the year and even before, but as with everything in life you have to look forward and this is exactly what I am doing."

Grosjean was forced to retire early from the last Grand Prix in Budapest after crashing into a barrier while under safety car conditions.

Team-mate Pastor Maldonado finished 13th in Hungary, but has yet to pick up a point this season.

Maldonado was recently confirmed to stay at Lotus for the 2015 season, and despite the team's troubles he has high hopes for the rest of the year.

"It would be difficult to give a clear aim other than improvement and fighting for points every race," he said.

"If everything is running right and the team continues to push then we can get more points for sure.

"As a team we will stay together with a clear mission to achieve the maximum."

Meanwhile, Leafield-based Caterham will be aiming to improve on their performance in Hungary, where both drivers Kamui Kobayashi and Marcus Ericsson failed to finish.

Kobayashi will be replaced this weekend by German driver André Lotterer, although it is unclear if he or the Japanese will race at the Italian Grand Prix at Monza in two weeks time.

Lotterer said: "I am delighted to be given the opportunity to take part in a Formula 1 race weekend.

"I'm ready for this challenge and I cannot wait to jump in the car and make the most out of the weekend ahead."

This will be Lotterer's first race in Formula One.

The Belgian Grand Prix, held at the Spa-Francorchamps circuit, is one of the most popular races on the F1 calendar, and was won last year by world champion Sebastian Vettel.
